300M PLANETARY GEARMOTORS

The planetary drives from the 300 series are particularly suitable for power transmission in applications for mixing fermenting matter.

The vertical configuration for the agitators and right angle configuration for the mixers, typical of the installation management processes, are available as part of the standard offer.

In particular, vertical mounting significantly reduces the dimensions of the drive, ensuring high torque and excellent performance in this application type.

300 Series planetary gearboxes are extremely compact despite their outstanding transmissible torque characteristics and overload capacity typical of "Heavy Duty" applications.

Superb flexibility is ensured by a large number of optional variants that can be selected directly from the catalogue and that allow gearbox configurations to be customised to meet the needs of specific applications.
